DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-33, 40-45, drawn to methods of cloning genes of a biosynthetic pathway and identification of compounds, classified in class 435, subclass 69.1.
- II. Claims 34-36, drawn to recombinant nucleic acids comprising genomic DNAs obtained from an uncultivated sample of microorganisms and a library of cells comprising the recombinant nucleic acids, classified in class 435, subclass 252.3.
- III. Claims 37-39, drawn to pharmaceutical compounds produced by recombinant organisms, classified, for example, in class 530, subclass 300; class 424, subclass 130.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of Group II and Group I are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the nucleic acids of Group II can be used nucleic acid probes to identify similar genomic DNAs, or alternatively, can be used in cloning methodologies that do not require the "detection of the presence or absence of a biosynthetic pathway".

Inventions of Group I and Group III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the products of Group III can be produced using alternative means and/or isolated from native host cells in which the products are naturally made.

Inventions of Group II and Group III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are not disclosed as usable together and have different modes of operation, functions and effects. For example, the nucleic acids of Group I are nucleic acid polymers that encode proteins involved in the synthesis of unspecified compounds, whereas the compounds of Group III (e.g. small molecule compounds) are unlikely to encode proteins. Further, the nucleic acids/cells of Group II are not necessarily required for the production of the products of Group III. Therefore, the inventions of the different, distinct groups are capable of supporting separate patents.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
